The 2024 graduation ceremony was held in the Stanberry gymnasium on May 12th at 2:00. The processional began with the band performing "Pomp and Circumstance," as junior class President Marli Hilton and Vice-President Jordyn Wright leading the graduates to their seats.

Starting off the ceremony was Amelia Wallace delivering her salutatorian address. In her address she mentioned that even when failure comes your way, you have to keep pushing through and never give up. Next, Amelia and Bella Wright read the class history, where they shared many funny and memorable moments that the class had shared throughout the years. Karla McQueen then shared the winners of scholarships and awards that each of the graduates achieved, they planned to do after graduation. Class valedictorian Colby McQuinn then gave his speech. He highlighted points on what it means to find your purpose in life, and how always choosing to show love and kindness can leave a lasting impression wherever you go. Superintendent Dr. John Davison introduced the speaker, former Stanberry graduate, Michael Gard. In Michael's message he talked about how important it is to build your relationship with God, for not only yourself, but those around you. He also spoke about the struggles and successes he had to face to get to where he is today. Michael stated "if you work hard for others, you work hard for yourself as well." The presentation of the graduating class was done by Principal Mrs. Lisa Craig. School Board President Brent Jennings then presented each graduate with their diploma.

To conclude the ceremony Amelia Wallace then proudly led her classmates in the switching

Seniors Head to Kansas City on Senior Trip

By Maranda Evans
Staff Reporter

Senior trip started Wednesday morning at the school where all the seniors met up with their class sponsors, Mrs. Maronde and Mrs. Palmer, in front of the school. From there they loaded on the bus and traveled to Kansas City for three fun-filled days of activities.

Wednesday's fun consisted of going to The New Theater and Restaurant where they got to watch the show "Squabbles". After the show seniors were given free time to shop and explore at the Legends Outlet Shopping Center. As for supper that night, students were able to choose whatever they wanted that was around Legends. After everyone ate supper they all went to Andy's Frozen Custard for some yummy dessert. Once everyone was finished eating they all headed back to their hotel and spent the rest of the night swimming and playing card games. Senior Maci Duley stated, "I had a lot of fun; we did a bunch of different activities, and I enjoyed spending time with my classmates before we graduate."

The next day was just as fun. On Thursday they started out the day with Game Show Battle Rooms. After they finished there, they traveled on to Breakout KC where they all got to participate in an escape room. Once they finished at the escape room, they all went out for lunch at Minsky's Pizza. When finished eating lunch they just hung out for a bit until they went to Dave and Buster's for supper. After another long day of fun they went back to the hotel for another night of swimming and card games.

Finally, to finish their trip they spent all of Friday at Worlds of Fun. Senior Amelia Wallace commented, "We had three full days packed with fun activities. It was nice to be able to make one last memory with my class."

Stanberry R-II is very proud of these 2024 graduates, and we can't wait to see what each and every one of them does in the future. Thank you for being a part of the Bulldog Family class of 2024!

School Year Wrap-Up

By Wyatt Taylor
Staff Reporter

At the beginning of the school year many things started up such as softball, football, girls' golf, and cheerleading, as well as the beginning of many organizations.

October started with the Bulldog's annual Homecoming with the theme "Stanberry's Got Game". Students participated in activities and dress up days throughout the week of Homecoming and each class participated in a float building competition with the seniors taking home first place with their Battleship themed float. Also in October, FCCLA showed off their red spirit when they boarded all 73 members and attended their Regional meeting. The marching band season ended after they performed at the 68th anniversary of Clarinda Band Days where they played "Push It" by Salt-N-Pepa. Later in the month of October they performed at the NWMSU homecoming parade where they played the same song and this time with some experience under their belts placed second, missing first place by only 1 point. The Elementary Academic Bowl kicked off this month which had three teams: the 6th grade, 5th grade and 4th grade. With the season starting off on a rough note they became more comfortable buzzing in and eventually won a few of their matches. The annual FFA Barnwarming was also held in October which consisted of traditional line dancing and some good laughs when senior Nate Giffin showed up in his chicken costume. Who could forget the importance of the DocuDrama which had both sophomores and juniors traveling to Hopkins to attend a documentary with some fine acting from students around the area such as our own senior Bulldog Colby McQuinn. Students learned the importance and lifesaving effect wearing a seatbelt can have, which was wrapped up with a speaker that spoke about his personal experience with his friends who unfortunately lost their lives in car accidents. October also happened to include the start of our JH boys' and girls' basketball teams, both of which played a great season earning some victories. The end of October marked the end of softball, with the team ending their season with a score of 3-16. The girls had home field advantage going into districts against Ridgeway and came out on top with a final score of 9-1. Unfortunately, they lost their second match to Worth County with a score of 4-9. The girls' golf season ended with senior Bella Wright advancing to state for the second year in a row, placing 31st overall.

November hosted our annual Veteran's Day assembly where we honored the veterans that served our country by hosting breakfast for them in the morning followed by many speeches thanking them for what they have sacrificed, as well as songs sung by the primary and intermediate classes. The band played "Lest We Forget", while the Student Council presented the "Americas White Table" ceremony. NHS presented flags of each branch of the military whilst the choir sang "Armed Forces." The FFA National Convention was held in November in Indianapolis, Indiana. The group of FFA members stopped in St. Louis and did some shopping and even got the chance to travel to the top of the arch. They arrived at Lucas Oil Stadium in Indianapolis where they did some shopping while waiting for the convention to begin. The opening ceremony kicked off with a dance party as national officers welcomed everyone that came, there were many motivational speeches, as well as a performance of the state FFA band and choir. After the convention they enjoyed the rest of their time traveling to Koteewi Adventure Park, and visiting a cafe. Late into the season of November the football boys had their final game in district play, which ended their season. This season had some big ups and downs such as injury and illness causing many of the players to be switched with others. Many of the boys received All-Conference team titles such as Tucker Schieber, Nate Giffin, Colby McQuinn, Decker Heyde, Brayden Hahn, and Treton Williams. And with the end of football season comes the rise of the high school basketball season. Both boys' and girls' practiced for many weeks, putting in hard work and long hours so that they could be successful this season.

December showcased many events such as the Elementary Christmas Concert this year's theme was "A Pirate Christmas". Grades K-5 sang christmas carols and the 6th graders performed a play on stage. Over 200 elementary kids participated in this concert, with some high school students acting as the "stage crew." This wasn't the only concert held in December, as the choir and band held their own Winter Concert showcasing the hard work and dedication they put into their practices. The choir sang many songs, one of which, "Nanita Lullaby", was in Spanish. They performed their fun version of "I Want A Hippopotamus For Christmas" which had its own choreography to it. Later in December was the JH Dance which came with its own little scare as no one was for sure if we were going to be able to hold it, thankfully, the moms of the community came together and threw their own dance at the local coffee shop, 3 Point. The local band "Railway" even came to perform live music for the dance. And who could forget our strong wrestling team who on December 2nd went to St. Joe and tied for 1st. One of our own seniors Evan Cooley managed to work his way to state, a feat not easily accomplished.

In January we hosted our 50th annual Stanberry Invitational Tournament from the 8th to the 13th. Due to weather conditions all of the first round games were postponed and held with King City, at both locations. For their first game the girls played North Nodaway and the girls really showed them who the boss was with a final score of 68-24. Senior Amelia Wallace also hit her 1,000 career point during this game when she was asked about this accomplishment she stated, "This is something I will remember for the rest of my life."

In February Stanberry students held its 2024 "Hawaiian" themed Sportswarming. Students and staff participated in dress up days throughout the week. During the Friday game, coronation for king and queen was held during halftime of the boys' game. King and Queen Reagan Heyde and Bella Wright were crowned by the previous king Gavin Cameron. February also meant the annual Spelling Bee was held at Stanberry. A few of our own went on to the regional spelling bee namely 8th grader Lane McGinley and 6th grader Quinn Heyde. Lucian Simmerman went as an alternate. Rounding out the month, Junior High Scholar Bowl concluded their season.

During the month of March, the elementary students and staff attended The Spongebob Musical, which was put on at the Robidoux Resident Theater in Saint Joseph, MO. Overall, the play was a big success and many of the students enjoyed it. Also in March, the junior high and high school Science Olympiad students traveled to NWMSU on February 24th to participate in their events and a shot at going to state. The junior high made it to state as a team by placing 4th at regionals. Unfortunately, the high school did not get so lucky as the only one that went to state was Junior Wyatt Taylor and Sophomore Kenzi Santa Cruz. Girls' basketball ended their season this month with a 12-15 record. Boys' basketball also finished out their season with a 5-21 record. Boys' golf started their season on March 20th when they had their first meet against Albany and Worth County. Both track teams, high school and junior high also had their first meets this month. The track members really put in their hard work at practices as is shown in their results from their meets. The band and choir had their spring contests this month on March 2nd where they traveled to NWMSU where many students got a one on their solos. For junior high choir, many students also received ones for their solos as well as a one on the quintet that was made up by Kaitlyn Van Draska, Delilah Libby, Kiara Willoughby, Charlotte Jennings, and Blake Mercer. At a large band contest, the band received a two and afterwards judges spoke and gave their constructive criticism. Decker Heyde, the trombone trio, and the men's sextet all earned the highest rating of Exemplary Gold. They showed how hard they have worked and represented Stanberry well. The 4th through 6th graders hosted their Reading, Science, and STEAM Night on March 14th. The 4th graders rehearsed and performed a walk-through wax museum where spectators could learn about famous scientists' lives. The 5th and 6th graders hosted a book fair showcasing their 3rd quarter book projects. Many STEAM stations were set up in the library for people to come and participate in; such as 3D printing, Legos, tower building, and even a walkthrough black light art display which showed off the neon artwork that students created. Wrapping up March was prom, with the theme set as "Roaring '20s". Students dressed to impress, and they did. This year's prom featured the dazzle that was seen in the '20s with pops of gold and lots of sparkle and black. The juniors did an amazing job decorating this year. Though the weather was gloomy, the fun never stopped and the night was filled with laughter, good memories, music, and dancing. At the end of the night prom king and queen was announced which turned out to be seniors Evean Cooley and Katlyn James.

In April FFA members competed at districts and attended the State Convention. Teams competing at state were agronomy and entomology. While at state in Columbia, the FFA members went to the mall and went mini golfing. They also got the opportunity to watch former FFA member Kiley Mattson retire as State Vice-President. The academic honors banquet, which is a banquet held for the students that hold the top four positions in their grades from freshman through senior, was also held. While there students were served dinner and listened to a guest speaker that shared a message about not letting your circumstances affect how hard you try in life. Speaking of guest speakers, John Morello came to speak to 7-12th grade students about mental health. He shared a story where he acted as characters in a play walking the audience through each character's point of view of the scenario as students learned about the issues related to drugs, bullying, and self esteem in a manner that would speak out to them.

The month of May was anything but boring, with students excited about the school year coming to a close. On the 3rd of May Stanberry held its JH Award Banquet celebrating and recognizing students who excelled in sports and academics this year. On May 6th grades 4th-6th had their annual track and field day. Students walk out to the track and participate in field events such as softball throw, football throw, and long jump and running events like the 100 meter or the 4x400 relay team. High school students also had the opportunity to be recognized during their Award Banquet on May 7th. Many students were recognized for their involvement in sports receiving pins, certificates, plaques, and medals. The seniors had an even shorter month of school leaving on May 8th for senior trip. They traveled and spent three days in Kansas City participating in activities such as Worlds of Fun, The New Theater, eating at Andy's Frozen Custard and so much more. Then, on May 12th seniors graduated, where they heard from speaker Michael Gard and received their diplomas. Rounding out the school year was our annual field trip to Maryville to the Hangar. Students were given the opportunity to watch either The Fall Guy or Kingdom of the Planet of the Apes. Both movies were very good and students enjoyed them. Then on the last day of school students reported to their class meetings and were later dismissed to go enjoy activities such as boardgames, volleyball, movies, video games, and more.

Overall, this year went really well and was a year that many will remember for years to come.

Spring Band & Choir Concert

By Reagan Heyde
Staff Reporter

The end of the year is finally here and there have been many music extracurricular achievements. There were three groups from Stanberry that attended the District Music Contest. Decker Heyde took two solos, the men's sextet, consisting of Reagan Heyde, Decker Heyde, Zander Heyde, Jax Heyde, Kolton Dias and Peyton Hume, took two songs; and a trombone trio, consisting of Brayden Hague, Decker Heyde and Konnor Keough, performed one piece. All groups made it past districts and moved to the State Music Contest in Columbia on Friday, April 26th. Decker received gold ratings on his solos, "When I Think Upon the Maidens" and "Come Thou Fount of Every Blessing". The trombone trio received a gold rating on their song "Slippery Gentlemen," and the men's sextet received a silver rating for their performance of "Come to Me O My Love" and "Cindy".

During the Spring Concert a few awards were given to students for their musical excellence. Brayden Hague 5th-12th grade choir members came together to serenade the crowd.

Junior high and high school band members perform for the audience.

received the John Philip Sousa Award for band, and Ellie Dias received the JH Director's award for band. Decker Heyde received the HS Musician Award for his musical excellence, and Reagan Heyde received the HS Choral Award for choir.

This year's spring concert was Mrs. Clements's and Mrs. Kelley's final high school performance together, as Mrs. Clements will be leaving us this year. She certainly left a great impression on not only the music department, but each and every student that had the honor of having her as a director. We thank them both and wish Mrs. Clements luck in retirement.

Upon being asked his thoughts on finishing his high school music career, Drum Major Brayden Hague responded with, "I appreciated everyone assisting me in not only learning the music, but learning what it means to be a musician by pushing me past my limits and teaching me new instruments. Mrs. Kelley's motivation led me to do a choral solo which was out of my comfort zone, and I think ultimately made me a better person." Mrs. Kelley commented, "The Spring Concert was fun! I was so proud of everyone involved! There's nothing better than seeing 5th through 12th graders working together to achieve something bigger than themselves! They gave me goose bumps! State Music Contest is all about being the best of the best. Decker's solo and the Men's Sextet were definitely in that category, and their performances showed that! It was a great day with great people!"

The music department concluded a very successful year and we look forward to welcoming a new band director, Mr. Kirby, next year. Keep up the good work, music students!

National Honor Society Inducts New Members

By Reagan Heyde
Staff Reporter

Throughout the 2023-2024 school year, the National Honor Society has been hard at work behind the scenes to improve various aspects of our school. NHS meets once a month with their sponsor, Ms. Miya Lindroos, to discuss upcoming events and other topics. At the end of April, NHS held a ceremony to induct seven new members. This year's new members are Hannah McQuinn, Dani Van Draska, Kenzi Santa Cruz, Ally Santa Cruz, Eva Cameron, Jaren Stoll and Vincent Smithson. During the ceremony, existing NHS members Kolton Dias, Paige Woods, Maci Duley, Jordyn Wright, Colby McQuinn and Decker Heyde educated the audience and new members about the importance of leadership, scholarship, service and character, the four pillars of the National Honor Society.

This year, the NHS members teamed up to give back to our community in many ways. The largest impacts they made were raising money and gifting items to the Adopt-a-Family program and hosting a powder puff football game for the high school girls. Upon being asked her favorite NHS memory, Ms Lindroos responded, "I have enjoyed watching the NHS members organize the powder puff football game for the high school. It's fun to watch them get excited about giving back to our school." NHS President Kolton Dias commented, "I am really excited to start a new tradition at Stanberry this year. The powder puff football game will be really fun."

Best of luck to the National Honor Society in their future educational and extracurricular endeavors.

This year's track team has had many successes and things to be proud of. Both boys and girls were able to run relays, and those on the relays have worked hard and pushed each other to run the best they can. In practice, the runners have taken every workout thrown their way, and have run handoffs and blocks when needed. Throwers, vaulters, and jumpers have also worked to better their skills, and keep them sharp as the year has progressed.

Those who placed in sectionals were Nate, who placed first in pole vault and second in the 200 and 400 meter dash. Katlyn placed third in pole vault, and Marli placed second in the 400 meter. The boys 4x400 meter relay had an amazing run, and they placed first, this relay consisted of Colby, Decker, Max, and Nate.

Album Review

By Brayden Hague
Staff Reporter

PURE MEMORY by muyu. So, muyu made something amazing—bless! It's been like, what, 2 months since I checked out muyu's stuff? They're still doing their cute musician thing, especially in the first track.

"Anokoro" kicks things off with a smooth piano tune that's just enchanting. It's all about feels, you know? The Japanese title fits perfectly 'cause it's about time passing. And that build-up to the climax? Almost like hitting a musical high, but still classy.

"PURE MEMORY." Now, the title track has a whole other vibe. muyu goes all out with dubstep/future bass fusion. It's got this cool start, then a groovy breakdown—basically, it's got everything. And seriously, if you can cry to this song, I'll Venmo you 10 bucks. The ending's just as hype until, bam, the tape gets yanked out.

"Oyasumi," the last track, is like the perfect goodbye. It's sad

Artist: muyu
Album: Pure Memory
Release: 2024

but also kind of uplifting. One of the best piano pieces I've heard lately, and I'm no stranger to making them. muyu's style is all over this EP, and it's a real gem.

I got an interview with THE muyu, when I messaged him, and woke up to a reply, I was giddy and giggling like Def Leppard signed my forehead. I asked muyu, "what are your inspirations behind making music?" He responded with "I derive my inspiration from a broader spectrum of music, whether one likes it or not. Lately, I have developed an interest in death metal and South American music. There is one thing I am cautious about when listening to them, which is to seek out the positive aspects as much as possible. The negative aspects tend to stand out. In music, comprehending sound design and music theory comes easily. However, whether it serves a particular purpose or resonates with a community determines whether it succeeds or becomes a captivating element that renders the music addictive. Keeping in mind that music with strong theoretical foundations isn't necessarily good music, I find inspiration in exposing myself to diverse musical genres."

So, this is my final review for Stanberry. Thanks for reading, shoutout to those who support me, and hey, my final answer is that Sad Keyboard Guy should've wrapped up the compilation. Bye Howdy!
